

PRHS BOUNCES BACK

Coming off of their first loss of the season the PRHS Ice Lions bounced back in grand fashion beating the Mill Creek Hawks 9-2 on Sunday night in Duluth. Stephen Musso scored 3 of the first 4 goals for the Lions as PRHS was never headed against a Mill Creek squad missing some key members to injury. Musso scored ½ way through the first period and Christian Huntington scored a minute and a half later on a blast from the point and the Lions never looked back. Shawn Rothlis continued his great play with a hat trick and Jackson Graham scored his first high school goal. Mitch Nysten had 4 assists and Josh Berkman, Huntington, Graham, Rothlis and Musso each added an assist as well.

From the Lions Den: Kudos to the GSHL and the IceForum for shifting rinks as the college games had put one of the rinks an hour behind schedule. Former players Alex Green, Michael Janofsky and Andrew Chitty were on hand to lend support to the boys. The line of Musso, Nysten and Rothlis was broken up with Musso playing wing with Josh Berkman and Daniel Huntington and Zach Tomlinson joining Nysten and Rothlis. Hunter Kemp played defense for the first time all year and had a solid game, in the absence of Tyler Fortier. Musso leads the league in goals, and Nysten leads the league in assists; Rothlis is also among the top 5 in overall scoring. The Lions are off for 3 weeks before facing Brookwood on Sunday December 14 at Duluth in a showdown for 1st place in the AA division.
